Proclamation 2024

Introductions

Poll Question #1

Who is in the audience? (Please select your affiliation from the list below.)

Poll Question #2

If you represent a publishing company, what is your role? (Please select from the list below.)

- Author
- Production
- Adoptions
- Sales or Marketing
- Leadership

Poll Question#4

i q T2 (s)q T TfhTw 5.78er

Objective

To provide an overview of Proclamation 2024 so publishers can make informed decisions about participating in the Texas State Board of Education's review and adoption process and to provide next steps in the process.

We will host additional, subject-specific webinars.

Science: July 27, 2022

Career and Technical Education (CTE): July 28, 2022

Technology Applications: August 24, 2022

Personal Financial Literacy and Economics: August 25, 2022

Poll Question #5

Have you participated in a previous proclamation?

Poll Question #6

The proclamation is divided into seven sections.

- Introduction (Pages 4–7)
- Adoption Timeline (Pages 7–17)
- Deliverables and Requirements for Publishers (Pages 17–18, 27)
- Deliverables and Requirements for ESCs (Page 28)
- TEKS and Course Enrollment (Pages 29–32)
- Ethical Standards (Page 33)
- Glossary (Pages 34–39)

Adoption Requirements

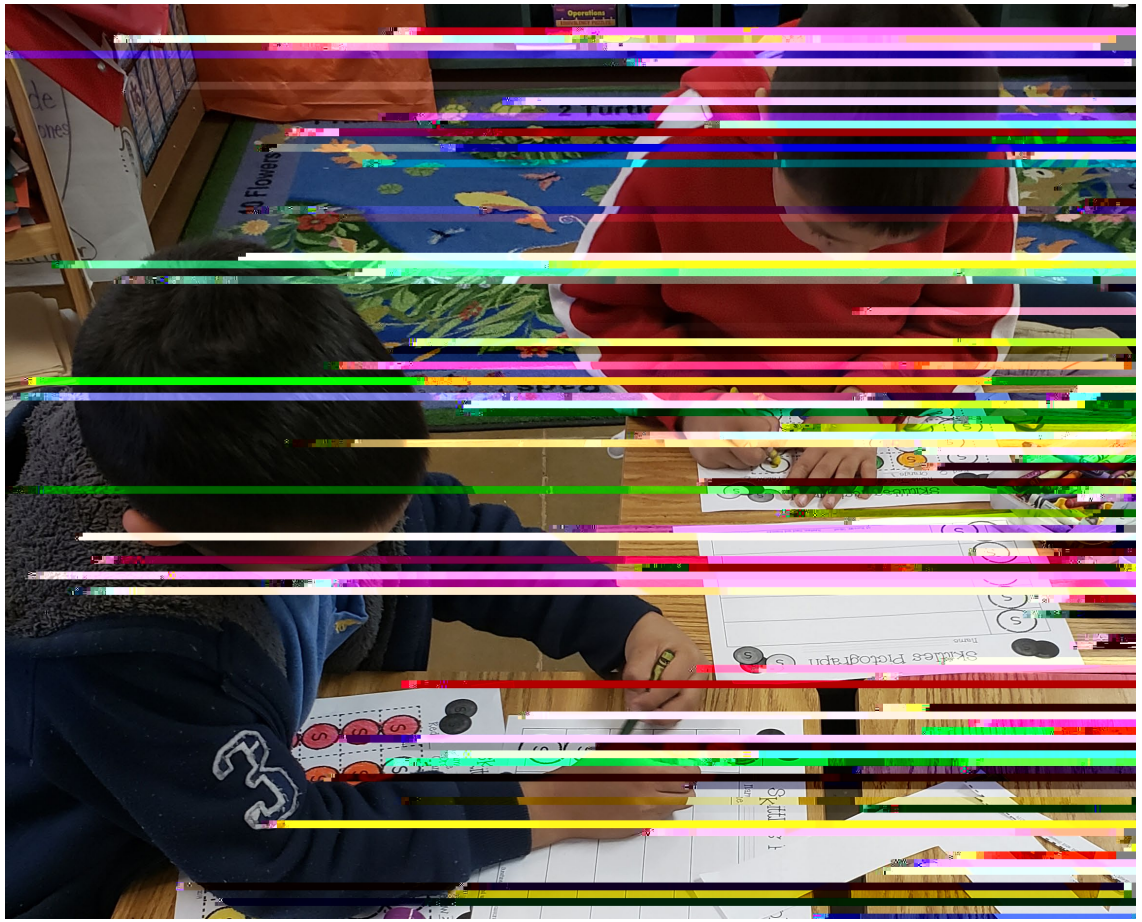
To be eligible for adoption, materials must meet the following criteria:

- Meet at least 50% of the TEKS in both the student and teacher u š Œ] o
- Meet 100% of the applicable ELPS (science and CTE materials that u š ,P Œ µ Œ] } v µ] Œ u v š (• } µ (Œ š •] µ } v i š } v o Ç • • µ] š o (} Œ š Z P • Œ i š À v o Œ À] Á Ç u] Æ ‰ Œ š • } u ‰ o Ç Á] ‰ Z o] o u v µ (š µ Œ] v P • š v Œ •
- Be free from factual errors

There are different submission options.

Publishers may submit

- new instructional materials developed to align to the TEKS,
- existing instructional materials that have been aligned to the revised TEKS, or
- open-education-resource (OER) materials.

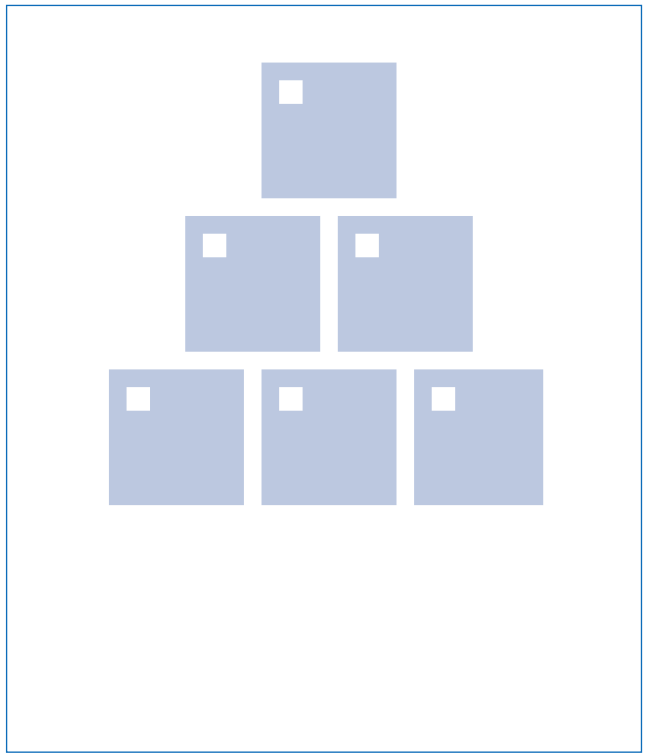


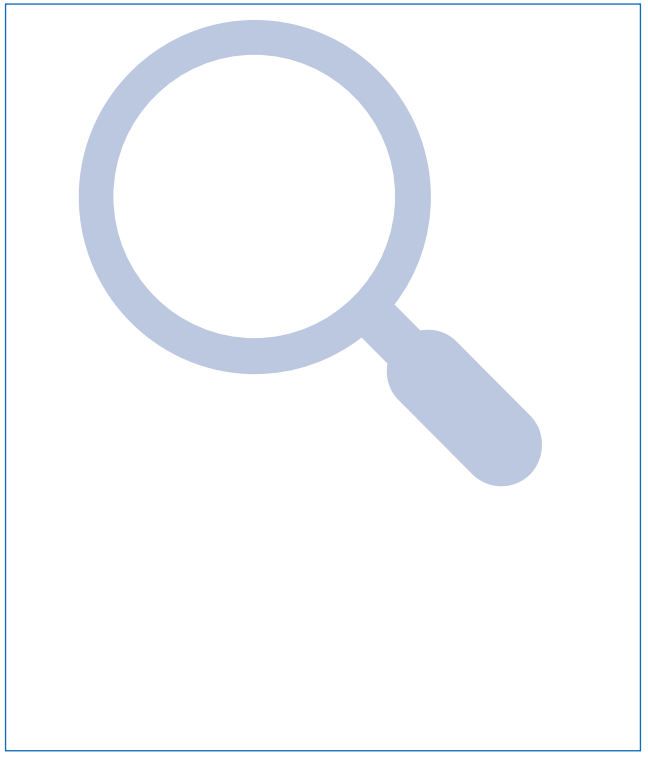
Adoption Timeline–Important Dates

Date	Activity or Deliverable
June 2022	TEA releases the publisher handbook.
August 30–September 2, 2022	Proclamation 2024 questions and answers is presented to the SBOE for approval
December 5, 2022	The 2024 Proclamation is adopted by the SBOE.

Deliverables and Other Requirements

Deliverables and Requirements for Publishers





All instructional materials must be fully accessible.

Electronic Materials

All teacher and student components must comply with Web Content and Accessibility Guidelines 2.1 AA and technical standards required by the Federal Rehabilitation Act, Section 508.

Print Materials

Publishers must provide electronic NIMAS files for all student components and any pages in teacher components that are intended for students.

Statement of Intent to Bid (SOITB)

The SOITB is the first deliverable you must submit. If you fail to submit a SOITB by 12/5/2022, you will not be allowed to participate in the proclamation.

Publishers will submit the SOITB in EMAT. Additional training will be provided in the fall.

The SOITB:

- Indicates a publisher's desire to participate
- Is required for each product and course
- Provides the following basic information about materials:
  - Program Title
  - Course or grade level for which materials are intended
  - Estimated TEKS coverage percentage
  - Media format(s)
  - System requirements

Preliminarycorrelations are due 1/9/2023.

- Provides examples of how information will be presented regardi the specific location in instructional materials where publishers believe the TEKS and ELPS are covered
- Allows TEA an opportunity to review and provide feedback befo final correlations are due

Finalcorrelations are due 4/3/2023

Usingthe feedbackyou received after submitting your preliminary

Completedescriptions are due 3/6/2023.*

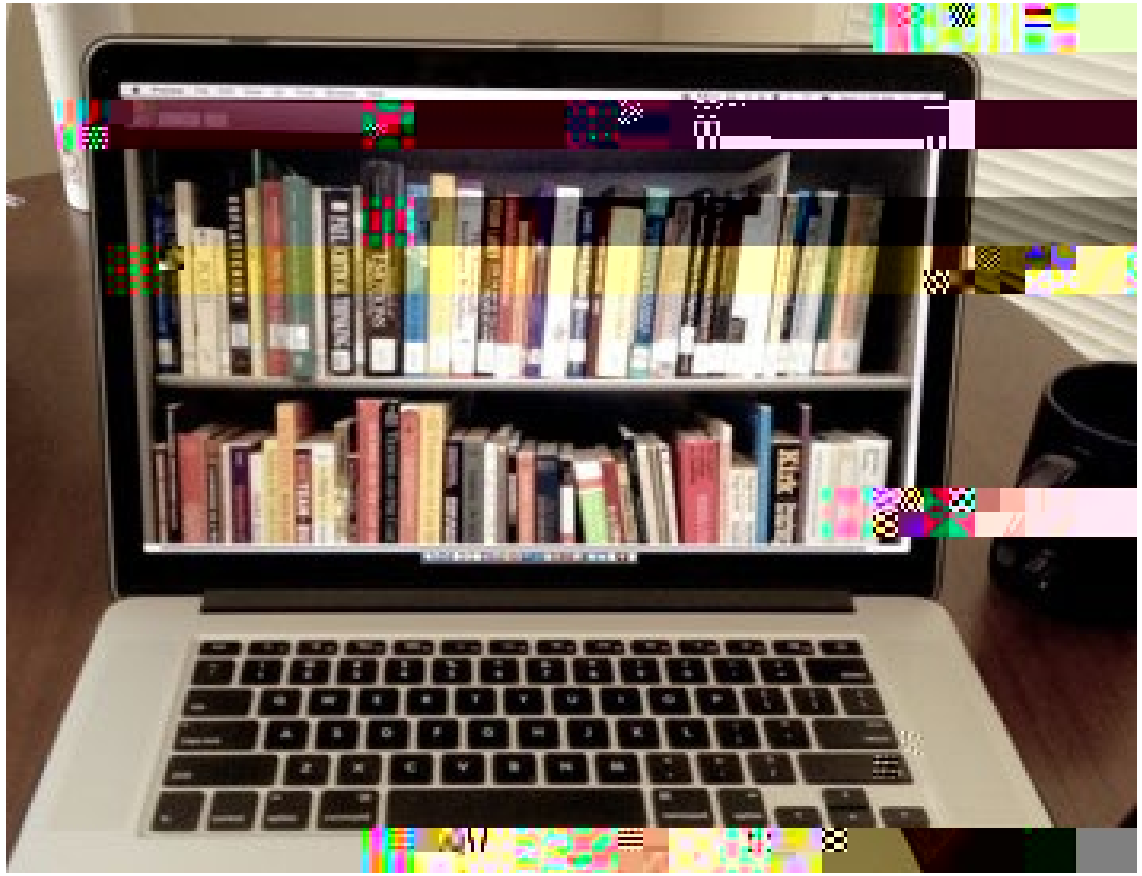
The complete description provides more details about the components that will be used to verify TEKS coverage at the review, including:

TEA will provide the complete description form.

- Program and component titles and ISBNs
- Preliminary price for each component
- Number of print pages intended for student use
- System requirements for all digital components
- Is required for each product and course
- Is required for each media format

*Complete descriptions for courses with TEKS adopted in June 2022 are not due until 5/30/2023.

Pre-Adoption Samples



This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under

Pre-adoption samples are due 3/6/2023.

A pre-adoption sample is your fully developed product that will be used by reviewers to determine standards alignment coverage.

*Pre-adoption samples for courses with TEKS adopted in June 2022 are not due until 5/30/2023.

Pre-Adoption Samples

- Must be complete electronic versions of the final product
- Will be posted to the TEA website for public review
- Must remain unchanged
- Must have a thorough editorial review prior to the pre-adoption sample due date
- Must be free of sales or marketing materials
- Must allow for multiple, simultaneous user access
- Must be equipped with a word search feature
- Must contain embedded correlations that direct users to the content cited for standards alignment

Other Requirements

- Print materials must comply with the specifications of the Manufacturing Standards and Specifications for Textbooks.
- Digital materials must use machine-readable TEKS to tag content.
- During the adoption process, you must document all contact with SBOE.
- Publishers must follow very specific procedures before making any content changes.
- Adopted publishers must agree to an eight-year contract with a one possible four-year renewal

All instructional materials must be fully accessible.

Electronic Materials

All teacher and student components must comply with Web Content and Accessibility Guidelines 2.1 AA and technical standards required by the Federal Rehabilitation Act, Section 508.

Print Materials

Publishers must provide electronic NIMAS files for all student components and any pages in teacher components that are intended for students.

There are different submission options.

Publishers may submit

- new instructional materials developed to align to the TEKS,
- existing instructional materials that have been aligned to the revised TEKS, or
- open-education-resource (OER) materials.

There are different submission options.

Publishers may submit

- new instructional materials developed to align to the TEKS,
- existing instructional materials that have been aligned to the revised TEKS, or
- open-education-resource (OER) materials.