Abstract. The Texas Education Agency (TEA) is required by Rider 58 (General Appropriations Act, Article III, 85th Texas Legislature) to provide a list of schools operating on a year-round system. This report contains a list of the 2017–18 campuses operating on a Year-Round Education (YRE) calendar as determined through analyzing district-reported data related to the specific calendar days a campus was in session throughout the academic year.

The report is available in PDF format on the agency website at

Section 1: Introduction

Year-Round Education Overview

Although there is no single definition of year-round education (YRE), in a review of research on best practices in education, the National Education Association (NEA) noted that under a year-round system, schools typically stretch the traditional 10-month, 180-day calendar across the calendar year, including either more frequent breaks or shorter breaks between terms (NEA, 2017). The intent of year-round attendance calendars is not necessarily to increase the total number of days of instruction, but instead to provide districts the flexibility to restructure their academic calendars to meet local education needs. Proponents for YRE contend that longer academic periods and shorter breaks may help students receive remediation more frequently and retain knowledge that otherwise may be lost over an extended period.

Section 2: Data and Methods

Data Sources

To determine year-round status for Texas public school campuses, the specific calendar days each campus was in operation were obtained through PEIMS. Calendar days were determined based on the days in which districts reported operational minutes for the purposes of student instruction. The data file included information from 9,006 campuses from 1,203 districts in Texas that had reported calendar data to TEA.

Identifying Year-Round Education Campuses

Beginning in the fall of 2017, TEA was able to use PEIMS data to identify specific patterns of instructional days that are characteristic of YRE campuses. Nevertheless, districts in Texas are not required to follow a particular calendar structure for year-round operation; a year-round calendar can be implemented by districts in various ways. For example, some YRE calendars may consist of four 9-week sessions with two 2-week intersession breaks between the first and second and the second and third 9-week sessions. A longer (4-week) break, typically over the summer, separates the end of one school year from the following school year. Other YRE campuses may adopt a trimester schedule with three 12-week sessions separated by breaks throughout the year. One commonality of many YRE campuses is the absence of a long (ar)-2 005 Tw [(On)-5 (s t)-2.6 (h)2 h Aaras[(A)-7.4 ((ary)12.9b15.6(b).011.7 (l)
